

Tech Tips for Weatherizing Your Oil Lines and Fittings

Some of our customers live in areas/climates where salt or chemicals are used for deicing the roads in the winter months. These substances can cause premature deterioration of the fittings and hoses.

Instead of replacing these parts as they wear from the attack of chemicals, a simple rubberized undercoating (pictured) can help ensure that your fittings are protected against the elements, so you can enjoy your Bullet Proof Diesel products for years to come.
